

Grundrisse (1907 – 2024) – From Trotsky to Che Guevara, even Sartre
By Writers in Argentina (Jorge Luis Borges Edited in Argentina, Buenos Aires Library of a University)

I. Leon Trotsky (Edited Selections by Borges) – 1907 – 1951)

Imagine it speculative that capital called Communist – just speculative finance then capitalists answer, no in fact more speculative than that pure philosophical Grundrisse, imagine small tables and chairs, which then are like sets, and on it a computer and a room with in fact libraries and finally small phones which are speculative and perfectly interstitial to current finance.

1907

II. Poems from Mao on Grundrisse – Trying to Derive the Grundrisse

Developing a syllogism for Communism,

Only the plants, gardening life and perhaps a coffee shop to visit,

Also some university life,

And the rest is computer life, and radio life.

Now art does the rest.

1939 – 1951 – Long March

III. Che and Fidel – A Debate Recorded by the Granma Intellectual Edition, rejected by Both till the Future of Communism is announced in a Indian Revolution they Predict

Organic developments of all aspects of society,

Like organic plants I agree, organic lighting,

Organic architecture – Graeco-Roman.

Joking on Mao, but he is correct.

1959

IV. Current News in Argentina

I prefer Fanon, that is Sirohi on the whole subject – his plan I announce (Borges here)

French and Spanish education,

And its formalism,

Axiom, Definition and Postulate -

Axiom - developments of Spanish cultural cuisine or even some living principles of say calles.

Defintion - Types of phone calling, computer and printing.

Postulate - Spanish things, French things - like walking in boulevards, or smoking in coffee shops.

Sirohi adds in Black formal aesthetics, make it all black.

1990